I'm not sure how many years have passed since I've ^Twritten this letter, but I guess it's been a while. How's it going? I hope everything is fine and you're doing well.

✓ It's not all nice here in the present, though. Unfortunately, the dangerous virus still threatens people's lives. But there're also multiple vaccines which somehow help to fight with it. I hope coronavirus is completely beaten and is not the burning issue it is now.

✓ Not that long ago, a team of three people shot the first ever feature film to be created right in orbit. Can't wait to see it, honestly. There's a very amusing story behind its filming, so I suggest looking it up.

✓ Yandex has started testing unmanned delivery in Moscow and Innopolis. Its robots are really technologically advanced and are fully autonomous. Now these delivery robots are responsible for taking some orders to ^{cafes} Yandex food's clients. It's very impressive how far the technology has come. ^{at} sp p. In conclusion I'd like to wish you happiness, health and prosperity. I don't know what the future holds for us, but I really hope that yours is bright enough.
