16	1. I had already passed the first test with what Miss Monday had described as flying colours. 2. This was not a problem for me... 3. Although I was able to turn to the correct page in the psalm book, as I could now count from one to a hundred, I feared Miss Monday would realize that I was unable to follow every verse line by line. 4. I played next ahead of murder, couldn't spell "adultery", and certainly didn't know what it meant. 5. I was transported into another world.
17	1. By this time, the end of our second month, we were expected to read a psalm out too loud, in front of the rest of the choir. 2. Only after two other misdeeds were summarily dismissed for lesser offences did I realize just how exceptional my voice must be. 3. That evening during the sermon, sucking a gobstopper, being caught playing conkers. 4. Harry was selected as the treble soloist. 5. Harry was proud to be part of the choir and afraid of losing his post position.
18	1. Before making me feel comfortable in bed. 2. He didn't show it. 3. Ignored. 4. He usually described 5. with a white collar decorated with buff ruffles
19	1. demanding - difficult 2. adultery - cheating 3. referring - looking up 4. dispatched - dismissed 5. congregation - churchgoers
20	"The most important exam in Harry's life" "I consider that this title is the most suitable one for our story, because it deals with a boy, Harry, by name, who tries to pass an exam in order to continue singing in a church choir. He has a strong wish to do it, so it is very important for him to get an excellent mark. Harry does his best to complete every task correctly."

My dear descendants,

I am addressing you from 2022, eager to share the most significant events of my life that have influenced my future.

First, I would like to recall a moment <sup>in my</sup> ~~very~~ early childhood days when my father surprised me with a gift: it was my first computer. I used to spend long hours studying foreign languages via the Internet, and as a teenager I chose two of them (English and German) to be my main subjects for the coming exams and, therefore, for my job. So, my father's present actually determined my destination!

Returning to my primary school years, I can't avoid thinking about one of the roles I happened to perform in a school play. Namely, I was acting the part of Cipollino and was extremely amazed at his willingness to give a hand to anyone in need. This is how I am still trying to conduct myself today, although many years have passed.

Now, as a 16-year old, I never stop thanking my parents for the opportunity to study in my current school, where I have met a lot of people ~~that~~ that will be my soulmates for life.

I wish you a long life full of bright events!
