On the one hand, this was a store where different products can be bought and then seasoned with spices and herbs when cooked. On the other hand, Fiona enjoyed the pictures of different seasons in the shop. So the manager sort of 'seasoned' his products.

Hello, future generations!

If you are reading this message, it means it has been found and can be read and seen by the whole future world - fantastic!

I'm writing this message to tell you about the most wonderful things that we've got in the 21st century. We use various objects at school, at home, at work, in supermarkets and in hotels, but the most striking ones for me are my mobile phone, my dad's electric car and my mum's handbag.

The first thing is my phone. It's incredible! You can keep in touch with the whole world just pressing a couple of buttons! There is enough memory to store hundreds pictures and post them on Instagram.

My dad's electric car is a special thing for us. It's really comfortable, very quiet, easy to drive, and it is environmentally-friendly. That's a big deal in our world, as we try to preserve nature for you guys! But it is very expensive!

The craziest object in my world is my mum's handbag. Honestly, it contains all kinds of stuff in it. You can't imagine how many things one can put in it. But it is almost impossible to find there something. It seems as it has no bottom.

I hope you liked the objects I told you about. I'm sure you are using some of them in your world.
