Hello people from future, I sincerely hope that you will find this message. Technological progress is going farther and further, and I don't think that this is a bad thing. However, as time goes on, you could easily forget events that should never happen again.

With new technology, wars of the future will be even more ~~describable~~ deadlier and terrifying. So, I want to remind you about previous wars.

World War I sent humanity into pure chaos. It was the first war of that scale, when more than half of Europe were fighting each other. But WWI haven't taught humanity a lesson, and in the same 20th century a new World War has begun. It was a massacre, and we still haven't recovered from it yet.

Ant
Then it was war ~~in~~ in Afghanistan, where hundreds of Russian people were killed, who sacrificed their lives.

Ant
I hope you can understand all horrors of war and now it's your turn. You should never allow any wars, because it could lead to horrifying results. The ~~state~~ future of the humanity rests on your shoulders. Don't let those horrors happen ever again, it is your duty as a future generation. I wish you everything best. ~~I~~ I and everyone else will pray for your success.
