16	1. T. It is held in such esteem that its failings seem to matter more than those of other institutions. 2. F. The NHS is special, a unique and uniquely loved institution. 3. F. It needs reform in the same way that the Met police and the wider criminal justice system need reform. 4. T. Both sectors - healthcare and policing and criminal justice - have manifestly failed minority communities and in both cases there is no shortage of data detailing the nature and consequences of those failings. 5. F. It can only truly be a national service if it treats all the communities that make up the nation equally.	0,5 1 1 4 0,5

20	The pandemic shed light on many disturbing truths including the actual level of racial inequality in Britain nowadays. People from minorities are more likely to die from covid and other medical conditions. However hard it is to criticize the commonly loved NHS, british healthcare and other services obviously need reform, but the government might ignore this fact.	4
