~~Dear friends from future,
I'm an ordinary person from 2022 and I'm writing to tell you about~~

Dear friends from future,
I'm an ordinary person from 2022 and I'm writing to tell you about the most important ~~time~~ events of the end of the twentieth century and the beginning of the twenty-first century.

In 1990s the biggest country in the world, the USSR, faced huge changes. A lot of regions and republics, which had been parts of the USSR became independent countries due to the economical, political and social crises. The country was deformed, the laws and political system were significantly changed. This event is very important because it influenced world economy.

Another event to be mentioned is the invention of smartphones. Nowadays there're a lot of models of smartphones and most people can't imagine their lives without them. This event is also significant because it has ~~made~~ made our lives more convenient. We can find necessary information fast, chat with friends from all over the world and do other interesting things.

At the ~~present~~ moment one more important event is taking place. It's a war conflict between two ~~big~~ countries - Russia and The Ukrain. We still can't predict how everything will end, but obviously this event is historic.

That's all I wanted to say. I hope you'll find my letter interesting and informal.

Sincerely yours Best wishes,
Alexandra
