Dear future generations, I am sending you greetings from 2022. I decided to write this letter in hope that there would be somebody who finds it interesting to learn about past from the perspective of someone who lived back then. ⁴⁰

I think one of the most major events of my time is the pandemic. I wonder if you spell it with the capital "P" because it has changed our world drastically. After discovering COVID-19 back in December 2019, new rules were declared in order to take the spread of this virus under control. ~~From~~ Aside from minor changes like the need to wear masks and keep the distance, ~~there were~~ economic and even ecological changes also took place. ¹⁵

The pandemic also announced the new era where one can get their education distantly. I am writing about it because I presume it is a part of your every life, so, ~~what~~ how it started might be significant for you. Distant education ^{has} not ^{been} fully developed yet. At the very beginning we used platforms that already existed for some other needs, now some new ones are eventually introduced. ^{18%}

I suppose the usage of both paper and electronic sources is ^{another} special feature of our time. ²¹⁰ I hope at least traditional books will not disappear; ²¹⁷ this is my wish for future generations.
