Take a portion of your profits, invest it wisely, and before you know it you'll have the money you need to open your tearoom". ② She'd been promptly deluged with customers. Young, fashionable types came in carriages. And inquiries came from restaurants, hotels and stores. ③ Their noise, plus the sound of telegraphs and ticker tape machines, was deafening.	1 1 1 1 1
17	① "Take a portion of your profits, invest it wisely, and before you know it you'll have the money you need to open your tearoom". ② Panicked, Fiona had run to the printer to order more boxes and then to Stuart to tell him to get her more tea. ③ There were too many orders, so Fiona just lacked of staff. ④ Visored men in vests and shirtsleeves sat at the desks, wiping sweat from their faces and rapidly dripping their pens in ink pots, scribbling furiously. Brokers ran back and forth, shouting at the clerks.	1 1 0,5 1 1

It goes without saying that knowing at least one foreign language does you a world of good. So, one day ~~keeping that in mind~~, I'd ^{bravely} asked my mum to let me take an English course at "Language Link", where I met ~~my beloved~~ ^{an} a woman, who became my beloved teacher forever. My awesome Natalie.

Never have I met such ^{an} extraordinary ^{person} people, to be honest. I'm totally charmed by her charisma. It's exactly the occasion when strict and ^{an} superb sense of humour go astonishingly well together in a teacher's character. ~~Even though I don't study there~~ the picture of rushing to ~~hear~~ her lesson every time to have the chance of experiencing pleasure talking to ~~such person~~ her, and listening to her smooth grammar explanations. ^{pops up in my head} And the way she can shut down the noisiest student in group totally knocks me down. ¹⁰

I'm also extremely proud to say that she used to work in such a big ~~for~~ international company ^{as} ~~like~~ "Land Rover". She's told me everything about ~~work~~ how working ^{was} there and I couldn't help shouting out "Wow!" every ~~know~~ add again. According to her stories, it was extremely complicated to deal with ~~presser~~ ^{pressure} from the headquarters and customers, ~~but~~ but she's my hero that copes with every inconvenience easily.

I don't even know whether I should say she can speak three languages and was the student of MSLU.

She's my favourite one and I did everything to be her pride

A large, stylized handwritten letter 'Z' is drawn on a sheet of lined paper. The letter is formed by three main strokes: a top horizontal stroke, a diagonal stroke from top-right to bottom-left, and a bottom horizontal stroke. The lines are thin and black, and the paper has horizontal ruling lines.
