20	In my opinion, "The Little Encounter" is the most suitable title for this story because had it not been for Harry, the plot would not have been so captivating. He appeared unexpectedly and almost ruined Nathalie's relationship. Moreover, that encounter reveals the woman's real character, that's why it was so important in the story.

ТВОРЧЕСКОЕ ЗАДАНИЕ

CONTACTING OTHER PLANETS

It is common knowledge that there are probably intelligent life forms on other planets. However, some scientists suggest an idea of contacting them.

In my opinion, only one message should be sent to them for several reasons. First of all, that life forms may become aggressive if we continue sending endless amount of letters, full of long sentences. For example, creatures will feel the same as an average person, who receives a disturbing flow of e-mails. Secondly, had they been so interested in us, life forms would have already contacted the Earth's dwellers. It means that they might be much more intelligent than us, so they do not want to sparkle a conflict with humans, who have become extremely violent. One message will be enough in order to understand creatures' intentions and ^{their} behaviour.

In conclusion, nowadays people are really interested in contacting life forms on other planets. However, they should be very careful while doing it. Sending only one message ^{will be} the best decision. Otherwise, creatures will become aggressive because they will be disturbed by constant messages, sent by us. It is believed that planets' dwellers will become friends and later they will create the most intelligent community in the galaxy.
