ТВОРЧЕСКОЕ ЗАДАНИЕ

People have always wondered if we are alone in the Universe. Scientists have been trying to connect with other civilizations. But should we do that?

I think that the human race develops, still there are a lot of things that we do not know about our world. If there is another intelligent life form on the other planet, it could be more advanced in many ways. We ^{could} cooperate with them and exchange knowledge and experience. It could have some devices and we could explore the Universe together.

On the Earth we have some problems with the environment and, to be honest, we do not know how to solve them. Maybe the other civilization could help us to find a solution to it and to make our home planet cleaner, to make us healthier.

Furthermore, if there is another planet with living conditions, such as water, oxygen, the atmosphere and organic substances, doesn't that mean, that there may be more planets with living conditions without anyone living there? We could explore them, move there and maybe even live there. It could solve the problem of overpopulating on the Earth.

Some people think that exploring the Universe would cause the alien invasion, but I think that it would give a lot of benefits to the human race and to the Earth.
