16	1) "It was as cold and alien as Malaysia seemed six years before..." "Time and affection had served to make... her life in London merely the hopefully forgotten past". 2) "... when she had first seen it, she had thought she was going to hate living there, hate everything about her new life..." 3) ""Did I really help because Mummy said I was probably more nuisance than I was worth?"" 4) "In the beginning, this knowledge had caused Julie no little anxiety..."
17	1) 6 years 2) helped the staff by handing out magazines. 3) her appearence 4) "Somehow, she wanted to delay the moment when she must take up contact again with Michael's family..." "She avoided looking in that direction".
18	1) it was her job 2) she was excited 3) ~~she~~ she smiled 4) a big number of people 5) grabbed her hand
19	1) Shabby 2) playfully 3) Stressful 4) repulsive 5) mysterious
20	I believe "A bitter taste of the past" may serve as a fitting title for the presented story, as it perfectly reflects Julie's feelings both on the matter of her meet-up with her husband, whom she didn't want to see, and the unwelcoming energy of the city she used to live in.

Chat GPT has indubitably had an impact on the way some students approach their studies nowadays. Some people might even say that it may lead to the downfall of education and critical thinking. I believe it is not as bad as some people think.

Firstly, there has always been one alternative way to make the process of doing your assignments way easier; that has also be copying. Copying other people's work has always resulted in the lack of critical thinking of the ones that copy, so the creation of Chat GPT hasn't worsened their skills, the cheaters did that to themselves. They would have chosen to cheat either way, it's just that the AI service is more accessible, there is no need to disturb your fellow students. Secondly, speaking of those who choose to cheat, people who truly value their education tend to have less difficulties, so they cheat way more rarely. It has always been this way and the creation of AI hasn't affected them a whole lot. The students that do use Chat GPT, however less effectively, but develop some critical thinking as well. For example, with the technology not being perfect yet, it can take some time to get AI to give you exactly what you need. Your command must be as precise as possible, and you also have to scan the given text with your eyes to try and detect any irrelevant information that needs to be removed.

In conclusion, Chat GPT is far less intimidating than how it is presented by the media. In fact, it might even help you develop some necessary skills.
