ТВОРЧЕСКОЕ ЗАДАНИЕ

Some scientists believe that humanity is not alone in the universe and that there are other civilizations out there. They say that messages should be sent into space to contact ~~the~~ them. In this essay I want to give my opinion on this subject and say why, in my opinion, it's not a necessity.

Firstly, we, the human species, have yet to discover other intelligent life forms on other planets. ~~We~~ We have no concrete proof they exist. It is a game of chance, not a scientific experiment.

Secondly, sending messages into space is difficult and requires a lot of resources. Broadcasting signals into space in an unknown direction with the hopes that we will eventually come across some civilization sounds like a joke. But even then, we will have to somehow receive an answer from, once again, an unknown direction.

Lastly, ~~in~~ in case we manage to receive an answer, what do we do with it? ~~I~~ I am sure the aliens do not speak English. Nor do they understand Spanish, Russian and Chinese. There is a possibility they have no eyes or ears. They might be some other form of life. We cannot account for that.

To conclude, while sending messages into space sounds good, I think this is not something that should be done.

20	I suggest the title "Confusing Encounter" because it fits the story: Harry, an old friend of Nathalie, enters the room and kisses her on the lips in front of her partner, Brantain, who was in utter shock seeing it it. He was confused. After him and Nathalie had a talk about the situation, they thankfully were on good terms.
