5	Allergy is a widespread problem nowadays. Many people suffer from allergy reactions and don't even know it. To prevent allergy reactions you should know exactly what products you are allergic to and try not to eat them eat, touch or be around these things. Also, you can go to the doctor, who will tell you what medicine to have, to prevent allergic reaction.

20	Nowadays, it is really easy to spread fake information. AI is improving all the time, so soon it will be able to create digital clones that even the best detection systems won't be able to recognize. In time ^{a few years}, we all will value reputation and provenance more than ever and we ^{we} will not believe the information as easy as now.
