19	1) dull 2) rebelliously 3) boring 4) unsure 5) round
20	"The new old home" I think the title perfectly encapsulates the changes in Julia and Emma's lives. It also makes the story more interesting for the reader, as the juxtaposition of "new" and "old" creates confusion and, as a result, intrigues the reader to find out more about the story by reading it.

ТВОРЧЕСКОЕ ЗАДАНИЕ

As technological progress is reaching new heights, educational facilities are beginning to face a peculiar problem. The recent advancement in the field of Artificial Intelligence has allowed ~~anyone~~ ^{everyone} to generate ~~convincing~~ text following any prompt, including academic essays through an online tool called Chat GPT. What are the implications of this new ~~issue~~ ^{issue}?

Some argue that the impact of generative AI on education, ~~may be~~ creativity and ~~is~~ even critical thinking may be catastrophic. These people suggest that students will eventually stop writing by themselves and ~~will~~ thus will no longer be able to express their own ideas. Concerningly, a large number of students already report regularly using Chat GPT for academic writing.

While the latter statement is true at the moment, it will not remain this way for long. As one might be aware, the advancement of technology ~~has been~~ ^{is} especially swift ^{as of} recently, meaning that teachers will soon be in possession of new and improved tools for the detection of AI-generated text. This may hinder the use of Chat GPT among students, preventing the decline of creativity and critical thinking.

Personally, as a student, I am aware of the fact that Chat GPT text is easily detectable by ~~text~~ teachers. Additionally, I recognize that practicing all types of writing is essential for my personal development. Both of these factors lead me to refrain from using AI in education. I believe that the majority of students share this feeling and also ~~choose~~ ~~some~~ consciously choose to practice creativity and critical thinking.
