ВАРИАНТ № 2

Unfortunately, our modern world has turned into an over-consuming society. People buy things they do not need, but they buy them just because they can. This stems from our dependency on social media, where influencers always have aesthetic fridges that are stocked to the top. People strive to be like them and have their lifestyle. Another reason for ~~that~~ wasted food can be the fact that not many people learned ~~to~~ how to portion their meals. So they think they need more food than they actually do. As humans, we must take action, in order to put a stop to over-consumerism.

First of all, if you notice that you have a problem portioning your food, go to a specialist. This will help you buy less food, thus you will be wasting less food.

Secondly, you must not look up to influencers. Many of them their kitchens just for the looks of it and waste most of their food. When you realize that you do not need excessive amounts of foods, you will not only reduce waste but also save money.

~~To conclude,~~ in conclusion, to reduce food waste, we must be mindful of how much we buy and what percentage of that

16	1) Those who could pay, did. Those who could not brought ^{her butter and cheese}... 2) Some said she had money of her own... Rumor had it... 3) This is just like the fairy stories you used to tell me.
17	1) On weekdays the doctor worked and her daughter went to school. However, every single day of the week they would be at the station waiting for the evening train. 2) Because if he did, love, hope and faith would mean nothing. 3) He did not, at first, notice the thin... The man was handsome. He walked with the help... and gaunt... with the help of a cane
18	1. a name for a place in their town, 2. looked after/treated people who needed her help, 3. when evening began. 4. meant nothing, 5. put his face to her neck (usually done because the smell comforts them).
19	1. notice 2. package 3. dismount 4. thin 5. say goodbye.
20	I suggest the title 'Despair or Hope?' I think this title not only gives a kind of 'mysterious edge' when you first read it, but also, forces the reader to wonder — was the doctor 'in despair or full of hope while she was waiting for her husband?' This captures the attention of the reader and encourages them to finish the story.
