ВАРИАНТ № 2

Food wastage is a major problem in many countries of the modern world. People tend to buy more products than they can consume and then dispose of them.

In my opinion, the main reason why people waste food is because they lack ^{awareness} ~~knowledge~~ about the amount of food they actually need, so they end up buying too much food and waste it. Besides, many individuals also do not know how to utilize food correctly. For example, instead of simply throwing organic waste away in a trash can, you can donate it to any charitable center which helps animals. ~~for example.~~ However, the method is feasible only if the products have not expired yet (one or two days before the expiration date).

In order to reduce the amount of food thrown away, people need to be aware of how much food they consume daily. Creating a shopping list before going to the supermarket will be helpful as well. Moreover, if you want to minimize the amount of food wasted, you can donate the surplus to different charitable organizations.

In conclusion, the tendency of throwing away food has had an adverse influence on the environment. By regulating the amount of food we consume, the problem can be resolved.
