16	1) The butler closed the door behind them and ushered her into a dark foyer. He led her into a parlor every bit as gloomy as the foyer. 2) "It's a shame to let a lovely house like that just die!" "... it's a bit of a wreck but it has good bones." 3) A mere fraction of what it was worth.
17	1) Sentence 50, Miss Nicholson had a was "ruminative" expression, perhaps reminiscing about her love. 2) Because "no one else in near New York would have a tearoom with tea roses in the backyard." 3) Sentence 36, she was "listening intently" to Fiona's story. 4) Sentence 48, she was "mortified at admitting this to a stranger." 5) Prove Fiona's story being very similar to her own past.
18	1) a light-hearted old person without a care in the world 2) be a vital part of a place's decorative furnishings 3) relax and become hopeful 4) succeeding to convince her 5) made her waste her time and emotionsⁿ
19	1) groom 2) analyzing 3) destroy 4) nostalgic 5) portion
20	I consider the "Happiness brought by misfortune in love" a fitting title for this story as it reflects the idea that sometimes misfortune may bring bring fortune. Fiona was initially was unsuccessful at convincing Ms. Nicholson however she, being the older one, ultimately decided to show compassion for Fiona on the basis of their misfortunes' similarity.

ВАРИАНТ № 3

I have been tasked to express my opinion on AI taking over the globe and propose potential solutions for this problem. I will now present my thoughts on this topic.

I would like to begin with identifying the root causes of the problem. In my opinion, an ~~important~~ important one is the accessibility of AI to the masses. People are simply swarmed with loads of AI tools for every possible task on the Internet. Another cause for concern stemming from the previous one is AI's rapid ~~development~~ development, making the rates of its intrusion into everyday lives that much more prominent. Moreover, AI makes menial tasks simple, meaning that people ~~would~~ opt for this easier option.

In light of these problems, I would like to propose several ~~saw~~ solutions for the problem of AI taking over the globe. One of them is the automation of the tasks AI is commonly used for, decreasing the demand for it. A more drastic solution ~~could~~ ~~be~~ ~~governmental~~ ~~regulation~~ governmental regulation of AI technologies and making the details about ~~its~~ ^{halting} development confidential, ~~halting~~ ~~the~~ ~~inhibiting~~ the global spread of bespoke AI tools for ~~so~~ every problem possible.

To conclude, I would like to mention that it is my opinion that sometimes technological progress like this ~~area~~ should not be inhibited but rather be given direction by the governments and corporations. Therefore, AI's ~~of~~ global spread stops being a problem and marks in humanity's favour.
