Food Shortage

A large portion of the world is suffering from a terrible problem - food shortage. It is a multifaceted issue that is caused by multiple factors, and one that needs to be urgently resolved.

Food shortage is typically caused by ^{the} poor economic status of a specific country, which is especially spread on the African continent. Another reason for the problem could be overconsumption, when people aware of the situation start hoarding food they do not need, which in turn leaves the others with scarce supplies of food. There is also a geographical aspect of food shortage - some countries either have no fitting land to produce food on, or their neighbors can't offer them food imported from their territories.

To solve this problem, there needs to be rapid development in economic ties between affected countries, which would quickly help the situation and make it so that enough food is provided to everyone. One could also contribute and assist parts of the world suffering from food shortage by donating to charities specialized in ~~this exact issue~~ aiding people affected by this exact issue.

Food shortage is a very serious widespread issue, that, if not dealt with, will undoubtedly cause very tragic consequences not just on a regional scale, but also on a global one.

Вариант № 1

16	1) "The humidity throughout the whole day had been exhausting and not even the air conditioning could cope entirely with the damp heat." 2) "Born with a heart complaint that had crippled her life and to some extent extend her mind" "the constant demands of a fractious, unhappy woman", "she looked pale and languid" 3) "Rebecca swam strongly out to where the water deepened to dappled green and turning on to her back floated for a while, her hair spread like seaweed around her."
17	1) Rebecca had been Adele's nurse for 2 years. 2) Adele was in her late twenties when she came to live on the island, making her approximately from 27 to 29 years old. 3) Rebecca considered the lagoon her sanctuary because no one ever came there and because there she could unwind and pretend that the rest of her day isn't going to be filled with Adele's demands. 4) Adele was afflicted with an unnamed heart complaint. 5) Rebecca agreed to become Adele's nurse because she wanted to get away from an unhappy situation in her life.
18	1) breeze sprang up - weak cold wind suddenly started blowing 2) as her due - as her necessity, as something natural and mundane that she can't avoid 3) congenital weakness - a problem with socializing, interacting with other people 4) particular sanctuary - safe space made exclusively for a certain person (in this case, Rebecca) 5) to face the day - to be ready for the difficulties the day might bring
19	1) trying - attempting (to) 2) averse - indifferent 3) fractious - fragile 4) languid - weak 5) bleaching - whitening
20	I would name the story 'The Tired Women of the South Pacific'. It fits the text as it mentions the central location, an island on the South Pacific, and the main characters - Adele, who is tired of her life filled with suffering, and Rebecca, who is tired of looking after her demanding patient - hence the 'tired' women.
