Starving and malnutrition are one of the hardest global problems to solve, but at the same time one of the most relevant nowadays. Achieving a normal amount of good quality food for everyone will definitely lead to a better future for the whole world - ~~that's~~ why it is important to work on the solutions to this problem. ~~that is~~

To figure out what needs to be done we need to look at the roots of the problem. In many developed ~~country~~ countries ~~there are ineffective~~ the methods that are used in agriculture are not effective and often damaging for the soil and the ~~whole~~ ecosystem. Moreover, the population of these world regions is almost always less wealthy compared to those in other regions, therefore they ~~are~~ do not have access to good quality food for the most part.

Taking this into account, to solve the problem ~~I can suggest~~ action needs to be taken by the authorities of these countries in developing the economy and adapting productive and eco-friendly agricultural methods. Besides, helping ~~people~~ people living without access to food is also very important. ~~Donations, so~~ Donating, collecting humanitarian aid, even doing voluntary work ~~is benefit~~ can be beneficial, ~~play~~ and crucial for those who need our help.

Sometimes we ~~don't~~ ^{do not} realise how lucky we are to have food, water and housing. I truly believe that it is our duty to ~~provide~~ help those who were born less privileged, making world a better place for everyone.

The image shows a large rectangular area with horizontal ruling lines, typical of a notebook or answer sheet. A diagonal line is drawn from the bottom-left corner to the top-right corner, dividing the area into two triangles. A small horizontal line is drawn across the middle of the page, intersecting the diagonal line.

17	1) For approximately 2 years. 2) In her late twenties. 3) The beach belonged to the villa and Adele never used it. 4) Heart complaint. 5) She wanted to escape from an unhappy situation.
18	1) sea wind was blowing 2) as the thing that was destined for her 3) 4) a place of great significance to somebody 5) to live the whole day as it is

20	I believe that a great choice for the title would be "Acceptance and Escapism". The story focuses on the theme of acceptance of unpleasant things in life: for Adele it's her illness, for Rebecca it's Adele's personality. However, a large role in Rebecca's life is played by swimming in the lagoon, which is her way to escape from her everyday life.
