5	In my opinion, the biggest benefit of computer-based learning is that there is no room for mistakes or mistreatment based on emotions, unlike in traditional education. It's not uncommon in traditional education to see a student get certain privileges if the teacher likes them. Computer-based learning has no bias, hence ^{therefore we get} more equality. That's what I think

20	The text is talking about climate change and how it affects our bodies, minds and our society in general. It is also talks about the power threat meaning framework, a framework aimed to help people with mental distress and trauma, which they had to endure due to climate change.

Text shows that some people are ignorant to the problem and governments have yet to take actions about it. So practising self-care and a pro-environmental lifestyle can severely help with the problem.
