In my opinion, the fact that there is not enough food for everyone in many parts of the world can be explained by food waste. People often buy too much food and don't eat it, leaving it to rot. And the reason for that is not only people's greed, one of the causes is marketing. In our modern world, shops suggest a lot of different discounts, including bulk discounts. Bulk discount is when you buy more products in quantity and spend less money. Obviously, people fell for this trick and buy the food (or clothes, cosmetics, etc.) that they don't actually need or want. That is why many people end up without any food, the stores just lack it, while the ones who bought all the food don't even eat it.

The solution I can suggest for this issue is removing bulk discounts and banning them completely. Maybe it won't make the problems of food waste and lack of food disappear forever, but it will make a huge positive impact.

As a conclusion, I would like to say that the mentioned problem is frustrating and people should speak up about it more and work harder to finally get rid of the issue completely.

16	1) Not even the air conditioning could cope entirely with the damp hot heat. 2) born with a heart complaint that had crippled her life and to some extent her mind; fractious, unhappy woman; Adele would not appreciate such sentiments. 3) Rebecca swam strongly out to where the water deepened to dappled green and turning on to her back floated for a while, her hair spread like seaweed around her.
17	1) Rebecca had been Adele's nurse for two years. 2) Adele was in her late twenties when she first came to live on the island. 3) Rebecca considered the lagoon her sanctuary because no one ever came there. 4) Adele was afflicted with heart complaint. 5) Rebecca agreed to become Adele's nurse because she felt pity for her.

20	I would give this story a simple title "Another day". The story tells us about a usual day in Rebecca's life (with a bit of her patient's backstory). Rebecca doesn't seem very delighted with her routine, so I feel like the title I suggested would perfectly describe Rebecca's exhaustion and sadness.
