ВАРИАНТ № 1

Since the beginning of history, our world hasn't been ideal. Humanity nowadays still has a lot of problems to tackle: wars, global warming, pollution and so on. Hunger is among the most important issues, resulting in millions of people dead. No matter how developed human civilization might be, there will still be those who suffer from malnutrition.

To begin with, one of the reasons why people don't have enough food for everyone is a war. Military conflicts destroy farms, plantations, fields, which leads to an artificial lack of provision, eventually causing a humanitarian crisis. In addition, wars draft men that are needed to plant crops and look after them. Another reason for ~~a lack of food~~ ^{food shortages} is ~~the~~ growing population. For example, African countries often face famine as they don't control their birth rates and with the increasing population follows the growing demand.

In my opinion, in order to tackle the issue we should encourage farmers to plant more and breed more animals for their meat and milk. Besides, the harvest must be protected from any insects or artificial catastrophes, like fires. Moreover, ^{the governments of} countries with a quickly growing population should impose restricting laws.

In conclusion, humans should ~~use~~ ^{join} their forces to reduce the number of deaths from hunger as much as possible.

Вариант № 1

16	1) The humidity throughout the 10 day play had been exhausting and not even the air conditioning could cope entirely with the damp heat. 2) 1. Born with a heart complaint that had crippled her life and to some extent her mind... 2. ... An elderly servant who had served her as both nanny and nurse. 3. Constant demands of a fractious, unhappy woman. 3. Maybe her congenital weakness was to blame, or maybe she was just naturally weaker than her sister. 3) Rebecca went for help early ^{swam strongly out to where the water deepened to dapple} back floated for a while... ^{green and turning on her}
17	1) Rebecca had been Adele's nurse for two years (Adele arrived at the island ten years ago, her elderly nurse died eight years later) 2) She was in her late twenties (she is in her late thirties and she came to the island ten years ago) 3) Rebecca considered the lagoon her sanctuary, for no one ever came here. As Adele never used it Rebecca had come to regard it as her own. 4) She was afflicted with a congenital weakness heart complaint that had crippled her life. 5) She wanted to escape from an unhappy situation.
18	1) a cool wind started to blow 2) for granted 3) inborn inherent disability, inborn weakness 4) a place where someone can be alone 5) to start doing your daily tasks tasks
19	1) struggling 2) repulsive 3) fragile 4) weak 5) whitening
20	In my opinion, a suitable title for the story would be "A Fragile Patient and a Hardworking Nurse" because it conveys the main characters of the story and tells a bit about the plot, ^{since the story} contains a backstory of the crippled woman and a description of the nurse's everyday duties.
