ВАРИАНТ № 3

SP Ever since the AI technologies have been put to use in various areas of our daily lives, humans have begun to unravel numerous ways of how to benefit from them. It's not a surprise that they have recieved such a shocking amount of attention, as all people tend to be drawn to ~~new~~ unusual and new things. Moreover, AI is able to simplify almost any piece of information and, needless to say, the idea of it sounds attractive. You wouldn't have to spend much time on a tedious task and could focus on something else instead.

It should also be mentioned that technological progress is what all scientists and inventors around the world desire. If you ^{consider} ~~take~~ the amount of money being spent by a country on developing different devices annually, you would see very clearly that everyone seems to try and best ^{each other} ~~others~~ on the international arena.

GR And, as I have mentioned before, AI technologies are what could be a game-changer. ~~for this~~ So it only seems logical to take an interest in them and train their algorithms as much as possible.

Nevertheless, all people tend to forget about the complexity of such delicate technologies and don't always keep the harm they could bring in mind. It is my opinion that the

A: $2 + 2 + 2 = 6$

B: $2 + 3 + 3 + 1 = 9$

C: $2 + 2 + 1 + 2 = 7$

its popularity so early on.
