ВАРИАНТ № 2

Food wastage is one of the most crucial problems in modern world. Lots of people get rid of food they buy not understanding that it may be harmful for ecology.

There are many reasons why people waste food. For example, they may buy more goods than they need. Some people may do it due to the great advertisement that convinced them to buy this product, some may do it on purpose to have some extra supply at home. However, products that are surplus will go off because people won't be able to eat them all, so they ~~are~~ will throw this food into the bin.

In order to solve this problem of food wastage, people should try to manage the amount of goods they buy. They should consider which products they need and form a shopping list with the goods they will definitely buy. When they go to a supermarket they should follow their list in order not to get any extra food that may be thrown into the bin later.

In conclusion, I would like to say that food wastage is a serious problem in our world, so every person should be involved in its solution. ~~Only~~ People should manage the amounts of products they buy, try to be more eco-friendly. Only society's rational behaviour may help us reduce the waste of food.

And for more than a year she was waiting for her lovely husband to come to her. Some people thought she was mad, but she loved Mr. Baxter and knew he would come.
