ВАРИАНТ № 1

It is true that in many parts of the world there is not enough food for everyone. There are many different reasons why it happens. I think this problem is ought to be solved.

I want to consider it properly and to find some solutions.

Firstly, a great number of people in Africa are starving. It may seem strange, because South countries are not bend to have problems with the harvest. However, Africa is a poor continent which had been greatly colonised in the past. People there didn't have freedom and were not able to develop their industrial impact.

Secondly, there are many people in the North countries who also struggle from hunger. Usually we regard North countries as the developed ones. Nevertheless, some of them have agricultural problems whereas cold summers.

Thirdly, our planet is filled with wars. Citizens who didn't left their hometown to protect it are generally run out of provision due to the actions of their enemy.

To sum up, the reasons for starving are various. To fight these problems, people can organise "food charities". It means that the donated money will be spent on food for the struggling countries. I guess that creating a special law which obliges developed countries to help their neighbored friends would be also a good idea.

20	"Being a private nurse: a dream or a nightmare?" I guess, this is the best title for the story because it refers clearly to its plot. In the story a young nurse takes care of an old woman. The woman is often annoying, but Rebecca has an opportunity to live in the villa and to swim alone in the lagoon.
