These days, AI ~~seem~~ appears to be playing a great role all over the world. Although there are indeed several advantages of this trend, it also entails multiple problems ~~and~~ which should be tackled.

Personally, I think that the popularity of AI comes from its usefulness. For example, ~~AI~~ AI is able to perform multiple tasks ~~which~~ within ~~short~~ short periods of time, whereas for a human, it would take much longer to do the same work. Moreover, resorting to the use of AI ~~helps one to~~ is an easier way ~~to~~ to do one's homework, ~~or on any~~ ~~or on any~~ other piece of work, than ~~the~~ actually thinking on their own.

However, apart from benefits, there are obviously many drawbacks. ~~substantiating~~ The use of AI gradually leads to cheating, which annoys teachers. In order to solve ~~this~~ the problem of overusing ~~AI~~ and misusing AI, it would be beneficial to limit its functions. For instance, AI would not be able to type long texts ~~or~~ of more than three hundred words. Making AI unable to do creative task would also help to limit its use, since AI would be able to answer only direct questions which people are not interested in.
