ВАРИАНТ № 2

A real problem has struck a lot of people nowadays. Food is our resource to live which means that we should treat it far more generously than we do today. According to history, centuries ago people would never throw away food away because in order to grow it first, they worked with huge effort, so they valued what they got.

Passing on to people's attitude to food nowadays, it is not that rosy. Now it is considered absolutely okay to ~~throw~~ throw away food they haven't eaten in time.

Sometimes when people go to a restaurant, they may not finish their dish, so it is usually packed and brought home. Interestingly, I'm convinced that more than half of those who want to finish their food at home, don't do that. Instead of it they throw food away after some time passes. In my opinion, there could be several explanations on this issue.

So, why people get rid of food, waste it and what can be done to overcome this serious problem? Firstly, I think that food is wasted because the fridge might be already full and people can just forget about new "delivery". Secondly, another reason can be that a lot of people don't feel sorry or anything else when wasting food. However, there's a great way of how to reduce the amount of food we throw away everyday.

Actually, a possible solution to save it is to send food to charities and other places where it's truly needed. For example, there're lots of homeless who lack food and it would be awesome if we could help them.

In conclusion, I'd say that food should never be spoilt, wasted and thrown away. If you're at a step of getting rid of it, just think of those who would be really happy to get it. So, I want to encourage others not to be careless in the matter of food!

16	1) "Those who could pay, did", "Those who could not brought her butter, and cheese, fish, tortillas, eggs, and fiery pepper sauce". 2) "Some said she had money of her own..." "Ruth had it the speculator had gone bankrupt and that the doctor had bought the land from him". 3) "This is just like the fairy stories you used to tell me".
17	1) Mrs. Baxter and her daughter used to go to the station every evening and wait for Mr. Baxter to arrive. 2) If Juan had stopped believing in Mr. Baxter's existence, it would mean that love, hope and faith "were foolish and counted for nothing". 3) "...walked with the help of a cane", "...bend down to the girl", "he had a "bag".
18	1) prime ranchland - a rich part of land, rancho. 2) attended to her patients - visited some people who needed a doctor to see them. 3) some evening - when the evening comes, every evening. 4) counted for nothing - not to be valued, not to mean mean anything. 5) bury his face - get the face somewhere so others can't see it.
19	1) spot - see 2) parcel - size 3) alight - greet 4) gaunt - disabled 5) wave off - leave
20	I'd suggest "Never stop believing" as a title for the story. I think it perfectly suits the story because neither Mrs. Baxter nor her daughter stopped believing that Mr. Baxter would return to them and they would live together again. Their strength and hope are endless, these very features helped the Baxters finally reunite.
