ВАРИАНТ № 2

As we all know, waste of food is a serious environmental problem nowadays. People, who are used to the fact that they can easily buy food nearly everywhere, no longer cherish what they eat. Wasting food in such amounts can lead to severe environmental issues, such as more waste building up or nature pollution.

In my opinion, people often waste food because ever since the economy crisis was over, many different goods have appeared in the shops. By having many more options to choose from, you tend to be influenced into buying something that you don't need more easily. Some people also lack willpower, buying anything they want at the moment. This causes the excessive goods to expire fast, leaving them as waste.

To reduce the amount of food that has been thrown away, we have to become self-conscious first. When going grocery shopping, ask yourself whether you really need that one item you're picked up. Don't forget to check the expiration date as well. If you order takeout from a restaurant, the advice is basically the same.

In conclusion, I would like to stress that waste of food can be considered a permanent problem you can't solve that easily. As long as there are no specific laws regarding this topic, there's barely anything we can do.

17	1) On weekdays Mrs. Baxter worked with her patients, her daughter went to school. After that, in the evening, they went to a train station. 2) He would have to admit that love, hope and faith were foolish 3) The thin, haggard man The man was handsome but gaunt He walked with a help of a cane

19	1) notice 2) piece 3) jump off 4) old 5) say goodbye
20	I suggest a title "Mr. Baxter". This is so because he plays an important role in the story, keeping the reader intrigued while waiting to make an appearance. If not for him, the story would be completely pointless, so, in my opinion, the story should have his name as a title.
