Nowadays the problem of some countries having not enough food tends to be crucial. People in some poor or remoted countries usually suffer from hunger. To my mind, people from all around the world should be willing to solve such problem because otherwise it can lead to plenty of deaths.

There're many reasons that caused it. As a most severe one I can name the location of some countries that lack food. There are usually situated in some remoted parts of the world which makes the process of delivering food there a ~~lot~~ lot harder and more expensive. Due to that fact many food companies decide against supplying those countries with goods.

However there is something that can be done by people to solve the problem of some countries having a lack of food. I can surely suggest establishing social organisations that will allow each person to donate money that will be spent on buying and transporting all the needed food to countries that face hunger. Also, governments of developed countries could invest into ~~world~~ worldwide companies that'll specialise on helping countries in need.

In conclusion, I would like to ~~to~~ say, that everyone can make a change and help to end hunger in some countries. To do it one needs to make a donation.

The image shows a blank sheet of lined paper, likely for a creative writing task. The paper has horizontal ruling lines. A diagonal line is drawn across the page, starting from the bottom left corner and extending towards the top right corner. The line is slightly curved and appears to be a hand-drawn or scanned line. The paper is otherwise empty, with no text or other markings.
