ВАРИАНТ № 1

In the ~~so~~ modern world there are many global problems that badly affect people's lives. One of them is the lack of food. It's terrifying for me to imagine people dying from starvation because I'm sure that we are capable of ~~combating~~ solving this problem.

There are many things that cause famine. I think, that the main ones are location, climate and bad hygiene. People starve in deserted areas where the earth condition is so poor, that it's nearly impossible to plant and grow anything. Sometimes the situation is even worse because usually with bad location comes severe climate. People suffer from draughts, floods and tornados. They care mostly about surviving and lack ~~experience~~ experience in ~~agricent~~ ^{crop} agriculture. All the abovementioned affects producing fruits, ^{crops} and vegetables, but what about meat? In my opinion, people don't have enough ~~meat~~ meat and nutrients that come with it because of the poor hygiene in their regions. Animals that live in bad conditions become ill and this affects the quality and safety ~~and~~ of their meat.

I suggest the solution that is, in my opinion, the best. Countries with better economical situation should help people from poor ~~reagions~~ regions by providing transporting ready food or share knowledge about planting technique and ~~provide~~ help build farms. After all, we are all people who deserve to eat and live.

I wish my suggestions and ~~thougth~~ ^{thought} opinion on 20	"Two women, one island". I suppose that this heading will suit the text because it emphasises the main characters and how different they are. Two women have different backgrounds, but share the same destiny - to spend a part of their life on the island. They share don't have much in common, but are united by consequences.
