It is very hard to deny that nowadays AI ~~is~~ is widely used all over the world in different spheres of society's life. For this reason, sometimes it is almost impossible to find out whether the work ~~was~~ has been done by a human or by AI.

On the one hand, usage of AI makes some aspects of the working processes easier. For example, AI can do monotonous work, like searching for the information in databases or checking spelling and grammar in large documents, what gives people an opportunity to spend time planning future ~~work~~ development and brainstorming creative ideas. This advantage, given to the AI users, makes AI very efficient, as time is one of the most valuable modern resources. To my mind, saving time is the main cause why people use AI. The other one is that sometimes they are too lazy to do something themselves.

On the other hand, there are some problems arise with using AI. One of them is that efforts of people, who are really creative and industrious, become worthless, as AI can do the same work faster, better. ~~and cheaper. I consider that~~

~~The best solution of the problem is~~
~~to restrict laws which protect authors~~ ~~rights. Moreover,~~ In my opinion, more regulations for AI should be ~~discussed~~ worked out. The government should limit the list of tasks ~~the~~ AI ~~might be~~ may be used for, leaving innovative and creative work for people, who want to contribute the world's development.

Undoubtedly, AI is good for the world,
but it requires wise using.
